

What Can KSU Tribal TAB Do For You?

KSU Tribal Technical Assistance to Brownfields (TAB) is free and tailored to the specific needs of a Tribe or Tribal community and is usually coordinated through the tribal environmental director or 128(a) Tribal Response Program (TRP) - brownfields project manager.

Brownfields Workshops, Webinars, Self-Paced Courses

KSU Tribal TAB organizes and assists with a variety of brownfields workshops in EPA Regions to include Alaska. Workshops address a wide range of brownfields issues. Workshops can be tailored to tribal and community needs.

To sign up for planned workshops, webinars and to access self-paced courses see www.ksutab.org.

To plan an event or workshop see Tribal TAB contacts listed below.

Examples of Program and Site-specific Assistance: KSU Tribal TAB assistance is varied and can be designed to fit into any stage of your TRP-brownfields program. Some of the KSU TAB assistance that has been provided to tribes are listed below.

KSU Tribal TAB Mission

We assist tribes in all EPA Regions who are inventorying, assessing and redeveloping/reusing brownfields. We also provide on-line tools and a database to create site inventories, manage data and to write proposals for EPA funding.

KSU Tribal TAB Service Area

KSU TAB provides assistance to all federally recognized tribes in all EPA regions to include Alaska.

KSU Tribal TAB Partners include:

- Alaska Native Tribal Health Consortium (ANTHC), AK
- Inter-Tribal Environmental Council, OK
- United South & Eastern Tribes, TN
- Eight Northern Indian Pueblos Council, NM
- Indigenous Design and Planning Institute, NM

Brownfields Technical Assistance Available to Tribal Organizations

Technical Assistance to Brownfields (TAB) is a national program funded by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA). TAB helps guide tribal governments through the brownfields inventory, assessment, cleanup and redevelopment process, using custom-tailored teams of experts to address site-specific needs and provide mentoring.

Examples of TAB Service:

- Technical presentations, workshops and seminars
- Strategic planning and redevelopment visioning workshops
- Economic feasibility and sustainability analysis
- Identification of potential funding sources
- Assistance with environmental justice issues
- Guidance in finding and contracting with environmental firms
- Independent review and summary of technical documents
- Community outreach
- Liaison service between you, state or federal agencies, or other entities

How Do You Get KSU TAB Assistance?

It's easy. There is no formal application process.

Tribal requests are accepted on a "first-come, first-served" basis within each Region.

Steps to TAB assistance:

- Call or email us (see contact information below).
- We will discuss your needs and KSU TAB resources.
- We will agree on a course of action.

How Much Does TAB Assistance Cost?

There is no cost!
TAB services are FREE.

TAB E-Tools
